PACIFIC AVENUE P.-T. A.

The last meeting of the Pacific avenue P.-T. A. will be held this coming Thursday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. instead of 3:15 as usual. This is to be an especially interesting and pleasant meeting. Mrs. Stone will have the unused room fitted out with chairs and until the usual room is ready, the meeting will be held there.

The installation of new officers will take place, after which a very helpful program has been arranged. Mr. Richardson D. White, supervising principal of schools, will talk on "The Development of the Child from Six to Twelve Years of Age—A Few Practical Suggestions with Reference to the Summer Vacation." Mrs. Danford will also be present and give a short talk on "The Library and its Relation to the Vacation Problem of the Child." We are fortunate in securing Mr. White and Mrs. Danford on these subjects just now, as vacation draws near. The mothers will appreciate this timely help in solving these problems.

One of the special treats in store for us at this meeting (there are others which we are not mentioning,) is the vocal numbers by one of our own members, Mrs. G. D. Roach.

The usual parliamentary drill preceding the meeting will be omitted, but Mrs. Greenwalt will be present as critic and see that the business of the meeting is conducted according to Robert's rules.

DINNER PARTY.

Saturday evening of last week Edward Seay, who lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Seay, entertained six of his high school classmates in an excellent banquet and party at his home, 1119 San Rafael street, Casa Verdugo. Very dainty and appropriate place cards, designed and made in the class colors by the young host, were a feature of the affair, each one having a characteristic painting of the one for whom it was intended.

After the delicious meal, which was served by the host's mother, the guests were entertained by a musical program and by card playing. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of young Seay were Earl Brown, William Balthis, Lehman Crandall, Maxwell Sheriger, Miller Fishel and Carlton West, all members of the class of '17 of G. U. H. S.

FEDERATION PICNIC.

The Glendale Federation of Parent-Teachers' Associations will hold the last meeting of the year in the form of a picnic at the residence of Mrs. James Ewins, 747 South Verdugo road, on Monday, June 18. The Executive Committee will meet at 11 o'clock and there will be luncheon at noon and a program in the afternoon, consisting of music and addresses. Mrs. Hutchinson, the delegate to the State convention, will give a report of the convention. All interested in child welfare are invited to be present. Bring your sandwiches and cups. Coffee and the remainder of the lunch will be served.

ENTERTAIN GRADUATES

MR. AND MRS. WESSELS COMPLET CLASS SOON TO GRADUATE FROM SANITARIUM.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. D. Wessels of 121 South Isabel street last night acted as hosts to the senior class of the Glendale Sanitarium training school for missionary nurses. The evening assumed the aspect of a fun-fest and friendship fiesta and was designed as a "get-together" of the senior class prior to its commencement exercises to be held in the Third street school auditorium next Monday evening.

The parlor was decorated for the occasion in white and green, the class colors, the decorative scheme being accentuated by a tasteful allotment of pink and white carnations, the class flowers. It was, in short, an entertainment done to a turn and served on a platter of art.

The evening was enlivened by musical numbers given by a triumvirate of the Wessels family—P. J. D. Wessels, Mrs. Wessels and Miss Susine Wessels, not to mention the piano recital given by Miss Mildred Bernice Dransfield, a member of the training school class. While Robert Wingate, one of the sanitarium workers, regaled his audience with some comic Scotch songs that smacked of Scotland with its heather, its bag pipes and its kilt-clad Highlanders.

A feature of the evening's entertainment was the so-called medical guessing games. This was about as complex as a typical Sam Lloyd puzzle and provoked some spirited mental gymnastics upon the part of the participants. The judges had a hard time deciding the winner but finally the palmy prize went to Miss Rose Macklin in the form of a beautiful silk flag. Before bidding their hosts good night, the guests all joined enthusiastically in singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

Members of the graduating class are Harriet Helen Baylies, Eva Marguerite Wagner, Rhoda Elizabeth Manning, Myrtle Lylla Rombough, Rose Elizabeth Macklin, Anna Blanche Elliott, Lawrence Howard McDonald, Caroline Durr Wittlinger, Mary Leona Rombough, Mildred Bernice Dransfield, Lydia Elizabeth Swartz, Alice Rebecca Graham, Carita May Slater, William Stanley Shearn.

CLAYTON'S NEW QUARTERS.

George E. Clayton, agent for the Maxwell automobiles, is now nicely located in his new quarters at 443 South Brand boulevard. The corner room in the new block just completed by Kent and Son was especially designed as an auto show room, according to suggestions made by Mr. Clayton, who is an excellent salesman. The room is finely finished with all modern conveniences. There is beautiful furniture provided for people who wish a resting place, and to further add to the cheerfulness of the surroundings, two little song birds are continually straining their melodious musical throats, saying c-h-e-e-r—u-p, c-h-e-e-r—u-p.

Mr. Clayton believes in the durability and the superiority of the Maxwell cars and when he takes your order for one of these cars his countenance bears the appearance that he really thinks he is doing a kind act to the purchaser. Mr. Clayton is also agent for the Hupmobile automobiles.

FOOD CONSERVATION COMMITTEE.

The Committee on Food Values—Canning and Preserving—which has been active in Glendale during the last two months, is to have a most interesting meeting, Wednesday afternoon, at 3:30, in the Chamber of Commerce room. Representatives from various organizations of women in our city have been invited to be present to hear of the work of this branch of the State Council for Defense.

The Economy home steam canner is to be explained and demonstrated practically, by canning fruits during the meeting.

An intense interest has been shown in the work of this committee, as evidenced by the numerous inquiries which come daily to its members. MRS. KARA S. ROOT, Chairman.

GOOD WORK.

Mrs. Cora Taylor, principal of the Columbus avenue school, phoned this morning that the children of the school had collected $7.13 more for the Red Cross. This brings the amount the pupils of the Columbus avenue school have made for the Red Cross, by selling old papers, up to $39.

CHAMBER COMMERCE

SECRETARY REPORTS ON IVANHOE BRIDGE—A. T. COWAN ELECTED PRESIDENT.

The regular meeting of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce was called to order Monday evening by Vice-President A. T. Cowan. The secretary reported that he had interviewed the County Supervisors—Mr. Dodge and Mr. Woolsey. They stated that nothing had been done specifically about the Ivanhoe bridge, since the recommendation of the County Road Commission was adopted by the Board of Supervisors November 14, 1916, of which the City Clerk of Los Angeles had been officially notified. The general bridge appropriation had been made, but not yet apportioned.

Mr. Dodge recommended that some action be taken by the Glendale Chamber of Commerce.

The secretary then interviewed the city engineers, and saw the entry in their books of a recommendation to appropriate $20,000 for the bridge.

In the offices of the Auditor and the City Clerk he was told that the present City Council had not yet taken definite action in the matter. While they might do so, it was not yet known for certain if they would or would not let the matter go over for action by the newly elected City Council, who take office the first week in July. Mr. Mattison B. Jones and Mr. Charles L. Chandler, being personally acquainted with the L. A. officials having the matter in charge, were requested to get what facts they could and report to the secretary so that a special meeting might be called if desirable that further action be taken before the next regular meeting.

The resignation of President W. J. Clendenin was accepted, given for the reason that his business would keep him absent in Baltimore for several months.

An election of a president being in order, the secretary asked to make a statement and said in substance:

Vice-President Cowan had been really acting as president most of the time and was always present at every meeting, and always ready to help on the Chamber of Commerce work, officially or personally, and the secretary believed that it would not be a fitting honor to offer Mr. Cowan, but that he, as president, would greatly benefit the Glendale Chamber of Commerce in many ways and materially aid the secretary and general manager in carrying on that most important work.

Mr. Cowan stated that while he would not say he would refuse the office, for he had always been ready to do what he could for the Chamber of Commerce, still he thought that some better man might be selected, if one could be named, who would give the time and attention the office required.

But Mr. Cowan was nominated, the nominations closed, and he was unanimously and enthusiastically elected.

Then Mr. Charles L. Chandler was unanimously elected vice-president. General congratulations followed.

The secretary announced that he very greatly regretted to have to read the following letter because Mr. Woodberry had been considered one of the most reliable members of the executive board.

GLENDALE C. OF C.,
Gentlemen:

Owing to the fact that my position as city trustee and at the same time a member of your Executive Committee is somewhat analogous to being a member of an interlocking directorate and is open to criticism, I request that you accept my resignation, which is herewith tendered, from the Executive Committee.

Very truly,

G. B. WOODBERRY.

His resignation was duly accepted. President Cowan deplored the fact that Mr. Woodberry could not remain on the board, but recognized the validity of his reason for resigning. The secretary told Mr. Woodberry that he would still go to him for suggestions and advice.

The resignation of Mr. M. B. Hartmann from the executive board was not acted on. The president wished to talk with Mr. Hartmann—long an efficient member of the board—and he having assigned no reason for his resignation.

WELCOMES GUESTS

J. C. SHERER ADDRESSES LARGE AUDIENCE AT SELVAS DE VERDUGO FIESTA.

At the big Spanish fiesta, held Saturday and Sunday at Selvas de Verdugo (Verdugo Woodlands,) when the F. P. Newport Company opened that scenic site to homebuilders, Mr. J. C. Sherer, Glendale City Clerk, former editor of The Glendale News and a resident of this valley for more than thirty years, welcomed the large crowds present on behalf of Glendale. In substance Mr. Sherer said:

The city of Glendale and every citizen of Glendale cannot but be greatly interested in this enterprise, which promises to add to the population a class of such citizens as have already chosen this for their home and the others who are going to do so. It is difficult to realize in this spot so full of sylvan beauty and apparently remote from the familiar aspects of city life, that we are within the bounds of a municipality, but such is the fact for this is a portion of the city of Glendale, which comprises some seven square miles of territory and stretches from Montrose on the north, southward to Tenth street, and doubtless six months from now I will be able to point to the fact that the southern boundary is the Southern Pacific Railroad track and the San Fernando road, for Tropico and Glendale are going to be consolidated unless all signs fail. We of Glendale flatter ourselves that we are a progressive people and possibly the best evidence of this is the fact that we own our own electric light, power and water systems and those commodities are furnished to our people at a lower cost than in any other cities of California with one or two exceptions. All nature smiles on this enterprise today, and while the sun cannot always shine as it does today, the fresh air that surrounds us in sunshine or in cloud, and the water which flows in the limpid stream, is always pure.

To every person upon this earth is given some work to do, and no one is deserving of higher honor than the man who builds up a home; his motive may primarily be selfish, but whether he would or not, he cannot help but add to the wealth of the world, and one is certainly to be congratulated who is able to select for the home he builds a place so highly favored as this. There is a science, or an alleged science, called "psychometry," which makes the claim that upon every insensate rock or stone, upon the hoary hills themselves and every enduring object in nature is indelibly engraven a record of every passing event, and that to a person gifted with certain psychic power it is given to read the story that the record tells. The speaker regretted that he had no such power as this, but the surrounding hills had been witnesses of many scenes of surpassing interest which could scarcely be exaggerated if one cared to let his fancy run loose and endeavor to picture the romance that these inanimate objects had seen.

He congratulated the owners of the tract upon giving evidence by large expenditures of faith in their own enterprise. The transformation wrought within the past few months had been wonderful and it was understood that this was only the beginning.

He welcomed prospective home builders to the city of Glendale and assured them that they would be given the right hand of fellowship and be received in the spirit of neighborly kindness.

DEDICATION WEEK BANQUET.

The social hall of the new First Methodist Church will be formally opened on Thursday evening with a great rally banquet. As announced it is called a "Billy Sunday Banquet." This name was chosen because the speaker for the evening will be Dr. G. G. Dowey of Philadelphia, men's Bible class expert of the Billy Sunday campaign. Workers and members of all churches should hear this man.

The banquet is given by the Ladies' Aid and the proceeds will go to help them in their undertakings in connection with the new church. Some misunderstanding has grown out of the name given the banquet. None of the proceeds of the affair will go to the Sunday campaign. The banquet is a part of the dedication week program.

When attracted to a store on account of advertisements in The Evening News, you will do a kindness to your local daily paper if you will mention to the advertiser that you read his offerings in The Evening News.

AVOID THE USE OF THREATS—PRAISE THE WORTHY

The newspapers and the heads of military affairs who are emphasizing in the public press as to what terrible punishment is in store for the evaders of the registration law are making a great mistake. It is true that every man of the required age should abide by the law, and the law should be quietly and firmly enforced. It is always unpleasant to place before a liberty loving and law abiding people cast iron rules and the announcement of the punishment that will follow if these rules are broken.

Newspapers and men of military affairs should make prominent the names of the men who make no opposition to the registration requirements, and set forth what great good these men are doing for their country and for civilization. Do not refer to the slacker and what his punishment should be. It should be the duty of police officers and the courts to inquire into the shortcomings of those whose patriotism has not yet been aroused to the needs of the hour.

The school teacher who places a set of printed rules over the entrance to the school room and then announces that the pupils who disobey these rules will be severely punished is not following the course of a wise teacher. The posting of the rules may be all right, but the announcement as to what punishment will follow if these rules are disobeyed is what stirs up the fight in the hearts of the best behaved boys in the school. There is patriotism in every heart, there is a love to be orderly and to get the approval of our commander in every heart, and it is a mistake to whip patriotism or a love to be orderly into the hearts of a people who are living in a free country. It is a matter of education.

There are thousands upon thousands of young men who have read and understand the war conditions and they are ready to lead in the fight, but it does not give them the honor they deserve when everywhere they are informed that you must obey the dictates of the military heads or you will be cast into jail. They are intelligent young men; they are graduates of high schools and colleges, many of them, and they know that it is their duty to obey and serve their country. It is the desire of these young men to get the name of being loyal to their country without there being signs of having been forced to be loyal.

Keep away from the newspapers the large head line announcing what terrible punishment will be meted out to the registration evader, and use that same space in announcing what great glory will be gained by the men who are ready and willing to take an active part in overthrowing imperialism in the world and making possible a democratic form of government everywhere.

PRACTICAL PATRIOTISM

We all mean to be patriotic and at suitable times we wave our flags and sing "The Star-Spangled Banner," but real patriotism must needs be more useful in its objects and tangible in its results.

In these days of war and stress some of us are standing sacrifices and deprivations and these are "doing their bit" without a murmur. There are others of us, however, who might be more practical in our patriotism and the "rule of the greatest good to the greatest number" must direct this patriotism.

There is no way in which we can exercise our patriotism more effectually and more righteously than by warm-hearted co-operation with the American Red Cross, that national altruistic organization for succoring the wounded and helping the homeless.

The other day the question was asked, "How can I help." Membership in the Red Cross is a good start, and there are quite a number of thousands of well-meaning people in Glendale and surrounding territory who are not yet members. Membership involves a nominal expense of just one dollar or as much more as you care to give; and this should serve as an incentive to co-operation in furthering the objects of this Association.

First, let us have a huge membership. Let us not allow Glendale to be behind any of her sister cities in Southern California, and then with the machinery all working smoothly, with committees already selected and harmoniously at work, it will be easy to direct your energies in ways which will serve the Red Cross and our country to the best advantage.

NEW YORK TO PETROGRAD BY MAIL

A through railway route from the United States to Petrograd by way of Canada. This ambition of United States capitalists has been outlined in a lengthy report to the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. The scheme has been considered for some time and negotiations with the railways and governments which will be involved in the project will be opened in the near future. Increased transportation to the westward without running the risk of submarines sinking ships, and assistance in the war for Russia with munitions and food will result if the proposed connection is established.

The plan provides for a standard railway line, connecting United States roads through British Columbia and Alaska with Behring strait and a line from the Siberian coast to the Trans-Siberian railway. Large ferries would carry freight and passenger cars across the 56 mile wide strait.

Negotiations have been opened with the Russian Government to improve the Trans-Siberian railway into a modern road instead of a primitive stretch of track overburdened by war transportations. The United States commission to Russia will take up that phase of the proposed line with the new Russian Government.

Men back of the undertaking believe that within a few years an international railway will connect New York with Petrograd. They are taking into consideration the possibility of the war lasting several years. The promoters of the project are satisfied that future benefits would justify the vast financial outlay that will be necessary. They declare that a few years of world's peace would make it the most important railway route on earth.

SIGNS OF THE END.

HEALDSBURG, June 9.—The annual camp meeting of the Northwestern California Conference of the Seventh-day Adventists opened here last Thursday night with a stirring discourse by Pastor G. B. Thompson, secretary of the North American Division Conference, in which he told how world events show Christ's coming to be near.

"Even though sorrows come, it is possible for the Christian to have peace in the midst of trouble," the minister continued. "Let not your heart be troubled," is the admonition of Christ in John 14:1. 'Ye believe in God. Believe also in me. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself, that where I am, there ye may be also.'

"Like the handwriting on the wall at Belshazzar's feast of wine, current events are ominous. Not with a hand in the sleeve of night, but no less truly God is depicting the future in letters of fire, which should make every Belshazzar in the world tremble.

"Jesus said that upon the earth would come 'distress of nations, with perplexity,' and that this would be one of the signs of His coming and of the end of the world. In former years one or two nations have been distressed, but we have come to the time when all the nations are distressed. The distress is a great deal worse in some places than we realize. Crepe hang on more doors—or could—tonight, than ever could have hung there at one time since God made Adam, and I do not know that we are yet at the end of trouble. It doesn't look much like it.

"We hear of world famine—that the entire world is in danger of being drawn into a great food shortage. If crops should fail and the war continue, there would be distress of nations to the full. But, friends, there is great distress now, and if this is not a sign of the end of the world, what could be?

"Christ said of the next great event, 'Then shall they see the son of man coming in the clouds of heaven, with power and great glory.' The apostle Peter, telling of the same event, said, 'The day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night, in which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also, and the works that are therein shall be burned up. Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness. . . . We, according to His promise, look for a new heaven and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.' So we read in Second Peter 3:10-13.

"I do not pretend to know whether the war will last for a month, or for ten years. I do not know all the details of that which is before us. The Bible does not deal largely in details, and we do not need to. But it points out the great, important events yet to come. Where the Bible speaks, we may speak, and we know for a certainty that these things presage the coming of the King of kings, and Lord of lords."

Pastor E. E. Andross of Glendale spoke last night and said in part:

"This old world is passing through its death throes. No devil was ever exorcised from man without being torn from his position. God is about to exorcise the devil and all his legions. The devil is doomed to destruction, and all who are associated with him."

"No man living can, of himself, foretell the future," said the minister. "I do not profess ability of myself to tell what is coming. But, thank God, we are not left altogether without chart or compass in this stormy time. Both the church and the world need the guiding star of Bible prophecy in this awful time.

"What is before us? What are we coming to? These are the questions in your minds and in the minds of millions, especially at this time when our own sons are being called to the front to face conditions in Europe which are sweeping vast companies to death by the methods of modern warfare employed. Since the dawn of creation you cannot point back to anything like it in the history of the world. Just before us is the greatest event of the ages, the coming of Christ.

"That the passions and prejudices of men are largely responsible for present conditions is the statement of the editor of the Missionary Review of the World. You, too, will say it is greed for riches and lust for power that have brought the world to its present state of anarchy, confusion, perplexity and trouble.

"Revelation 11:15, 16 tells of the time when Christ is about to come in the clouds of heaven. 'And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead that they should be judged, and that thou shouldst give reward unto thy servants, the prophets, and them that fear Thy name, small and great, and shouldst destroy them that destroy the earth.' Notice, friends, the order of events. First the anger of the nations was to come, then the wrath of God, then the judgment of the wicked dead, and lastly the reward of the righteous. Are we not now living in the time when it may truly be said, as never before in the history of the world, that the nations are angry?

"Describing the last days of earth's history, the Bible says, 'Their land also is full of silver and gold, neither is there any end of their chariots.' In 1492, the year Columbus discovered America, the gold supply of all Christendom was valued at $300,000,000. In 1900 the gold in the United States alone amounted to ninety-seven billion dollars, and in 1915 to two hundred billion dollars. In 1492 the annual production of gold was valued at $3,000,000. In 1916 the annual production of gold was four hundred seventy million dollars.

"We ought to look beyond the dark night of sorrow in store for this world to the glorious morning of deliverance so soon to come. We should not see merely the pessimistic side, but the optimistic side of the future as well. Though present conditions are but the beginning of sorrows, yet there will come an end of the misery and sorrow in the world. As out of the chaos in the beginning God created the earth, so out of the tumult God will bring forth a new earth of beauty."

Meetings will continue daily at 11 a.m., 3 p.m. and 6 p.m. The public is cordially invited and many are attending from neighboring cities.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

Sunday was a great day at the First Congregational Church of Glendale. It was a happy, joyous day. It was a day of deep spiritual impressions. It was children's day. Infants were baptised, children were received into the church. The church and Sunday school united in one service at 10:30 o'clock. The main auditorium and side rooms were filled to overflowing.

Under the efficient management of Miss Rosemary Button, the church was most beautifully decorated. Miss Button was assisted by the young ladies of her class and the young men of Mr. Frazee's class.

Mr. A. S. Dudley, the efficient Sunday school superintendent, presided in a most pleasing and impressive manner.

The rite of baptism was administered to quite a number by the pastor. These and others were received into the church. It was a most impressive sight to see so many children stand before the church and be received into membership.

The pastor spoke most fitting words, words which impressed the boys and girls and effected the older ones.

A dozen of more were graduated from the primary department and it was a gladness sight to see the graduates receive their diplomas.

Of those who graduated Joy E. Willisford had been a member of the school since it was organized five years ago last October. This little miss had never been absent when in Glendale, and then she attended elsewhere. She had committed the Golden Texts for the past fifty Sundays. Josephine Franklin, another of the graduates, had been in the school almost as long as Joy.

Mrs. E. D. Yard, the superintendent of this important department, has many reasons to be proud of her little ones. The children all love "Aunt Yard."

A suitable Bible was presented to Miss Millicent Alvord for efficiency in Bible drill.

The orchestra, under the able direction of Miss Frances Payne added not a little to the interest of the program, which was as follows:

1. Selection, orchestra.
2. Song, by school.
3. Prayer, pastor.
4. Words of welcome, David Chase.
5. Class exercise, "Preparedness," Miss Galey's class.
6. Recitation, Robert Bullinger.
7. Anthem, choir.
8. Recitation, Emily Belleu.
9. Song, primary department.
10. Exercise, "Do Something for Somebody," primaries.
11. Orchestra, "Reign of Roses."
12. Recitation, "The New Style Patriot," Robert Frazee.
13. Song, gleaners class.
14. Class exercise, missionary activities," Mr. Lane's class.

The exercise by Mr. Lane's class was prepared by Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson and was a very clever and impressive bit of work. Miss Galey displayed much ability in writing the exercise which her class presented. At the evening service Dr. Willisford, by the aid of the stereopticon, took the audience through a portion of the Holy Land. The address was instructive and interesting. Thus closed an eventful, happy and uplifting Sabbath day.

"PRINCESS JU JU" AT THE IN- TERMEDIATE SCHOOL.

Appearing as the culminating success of the intermediate school music department the "Princess Ju Ju" will be staged Friday evening by the Girls' Glee Club. For weeks the most talented singers of the glee club have been rehearsing diligently under the capable supervision of Miss Wetherby, and at last final arrangements for the presentation of "Princess Ju Ju," a Japanese operetta written by Clementine Ward, have been made.
A staff composed of Miss Jones, Miss Mallory and Miss Scholz has rendered valuable aid in final arrangements for the operetta.

The leads are played by Evelyn Apple and Julia Robinson, the former taking the part of Princess Ju Ju, while the latter serves in the role of Emperor Hokipokittipitop, reputed to be a peppery potentate.

"Princess Ju Ju" will be performed in the intermediate school auditorium on the evening of Friday, June 15, at 8 o'clock. To defray expenses an admission of 10 cents will be charged.

WHY FIRST ISSUE TWO BILLIONS

"The first issue of bonds—2,000-000,000—has not been determined by any arbitrary decision or judgment; it has been determined by the actual necessities of the situation. It is the least possible sum that we can afford to provide for the immediate conduct of the war. We are trying to spread the payment for the bonds
over as large a period as possible so that there shall be no financial disturbance, and we are going to redeposit the proceeds in the banks upon some equitable plan so that there shall be no interference with business. This money is not going to be taken out of the country."—Secretary McAdoo.

The time has come—

When honor draws the sword,
And Justice breathes a blessing
On the cause that we uphold."

ceptionally large string of fish.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

This forenoon there occurred a very destructive and sensational automobile accident on the San Fernando road at Glendale avenue. J. R. Maxwell of 136 West Park avenue, Tropico, accompanied by Mrs. Maxwell, her father, J. J. Lows of Palmer avenue, and Mrs. Boynton of Los Angeles, in a Buick touring car, was driving south on Glendale avenue and upon reaching the San Fernando boulevard the car collided with a large Packard car owned by an Auto Stage Line and carrying nine passengers. The Buick car struck the Packard on the side in such a manner that the big car changed its course and turned turtle, landing in an entirely inverted position with the nine passengers pinned beneath its weight.

C. O. Pulliam of Glendale, who was on his way to Los Angeles, witnessed the accident and assisted in extricating the unfortunate nine.

One lady, a passenger in the auto stage, was quite seriously injured and she was conveyed to the Glendale Sanitarium by Mr. Pulliam.

The passengers in the Buick were not injured, although they got a sudden jolt when the collision took place.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Much activity has been going on in the "Explosion" office of late in preparation for this week's edition, which is to be Seniors' number. The paper will be twice as large as it usually is, and will contain numerous writeups, poems, toasts, etc., to the members of this year's graduates. Berna Martin, the newly elected editor for next year's "Explosion," is working in advance by helping the present editor, Kenneth Beldin, and he says that this week's edition will far surpass any that has been turned out this year. Let everybody get in and show their appreciation of the "Explosion" by purchasing a Senior number.

As was announced in yesterday's News the big annual exhibit, which will take place Thursday and Friday of this week, will be an exhibition of the work done by the Art Department and the Mechanical Arts Department, and also that done by the Physics, Commercial, Domestic Science, Biology and Physiology departments. The public is cordially invited and urged to attend these exhibits, as this is the only way in which the accomplishments of the students can successfully be demonstrated to the public. The work which will be on display in the different departments has not been done expressly for this purpose, but it has been done all through the year in the regular courses.

Never before in the history of the school has such a serious attitude been taken by the students in regard to studying as they have this week.
Some of the students are actually "cramming" more this week than they have done all through the year,
and all because the final half-day exams begin Thursday morning. This is especially hard on the seniors, as they do not have to attend school next week and all their tests must come this week.

MISS OLIVER ENTERTAINS.

Miss Marie Oliver, 1314 North Central avenue, very charmingly entertained a number of her friends Saturday afternoon and evening. The afternoon was given over to a horseback ride and those invited for the afternoon enjoyed a canter among the hills and a picnic luncheon, chaperoned by Miss Williams. Later in the evening, having returned to Miss Oliver's home, they were joined by others and a very delightful musical evening followed. Decorations were of roses and sweet peas, used profusely in bowls and baskets and forming a pretty setting for an evening party.

Miss Brice and Miss Esterly favored the company with some fine
piano selections, and Miss Anderson and Miss Oliver and Mr. Kuhun and Mr. Meigham sang several beautiful songs.

Mr. Willametzeg and Mr. Elchorn gave violin selections with piano accompaniment. The Oulja board interpreted by Miss Bardill gave some very interesting character sketches of the guests.

Among those who enjoyed Miss Oliver's hospitality on this occasion were Misses Brice, Leone Brice, Alice Chandler, Marion Anderson, Hattie Beckman, Alice Frank, M. Bardill, E.
Williams, Lucile Nicholson, Emma Esterly, Helen Esterly, Frieda Lindley; Messrs. Paul Richardson, Frederick Gray, Wilbur Lee, Everett Bartlett, Storrs Beckman, Chesterfield Wyvell, Elwood Ingledue, Harrison Frank, Julius Elchorn, Ward Kuhun, Osborne Meigham, John Willametzeg.

Delicious refreshments were served, good nights were said and the guests departed after expressing their pleasure at the delightful entertainment afforded them.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION WORK.

In the Chamber of Commerce at 4:30 p.m. yesterday the committee met with Mrs. McGregor, the district organizer. A large list of prominent

Rock, Casa Verdugo and other places were suggested as patrons, who will be notified and asked to serve. The outlook is promising.

WALT LE NOIR CHURCH, Sec.

ON THE HIGHWAYS AND BYWAYS.

Transcontinental travel by motor car continues to be popular at all seasons, and just now Glendale and vicinity is well represented in many parts of the country. J. G. Hunchberger, the Buick dealer, has received some very interesting letters from Buick owners en route to distant and various destinations.

One enthusiastic traveler is W. G.
Black of Tropico, now en route to Kansas and other eastern points. He writes from La Junta, Colo., reporting
a very delightful trip to that point
via the Grand Canyon and Raton, N. M. The La Bajada grade, which is such a terror to motorists, because of its many short turns and extreme steepness (being 35 degrees in some places,) he says "caused my little Buick Six no trouble whatever." He also refers with some pride to his gas mileage on the run to Baton, N.
M., 1408 miles on seventy-seven gallons, an average of better than eighteen miles per gallon.

Ned Sherlock of Burbank, who left here some days ago to spend the summer on his sheep ranch near Lake View, Or., writes from Alturas, Cal., that "the going is very rough with many routes still closed by snow. Made Fresno in eight hours and averaged twenty and one-half miles per gallon of gas."

C. L. Shaffer of Sycamore street,
Glendale, is on his way to Portland,
Or., and reports going rather rough in Northern California. But has met with no trouble and says his Buick
Six is making good.

F. S. Webster of Burbank has recently made two trips to Goldfield, Nev., with his Buick Six, using dis-tillate, and reports an average of better than nineteen miles to the gallon on each trip.

J. R. Adams of Sunland is another Buick owner who has hit the trail for an unknown destination. He reports from Bonita, Ariz., that "after traveling 837 miles of very bad roads with much deep sand it required but six quarts of water to fill my radiator. No trouble whatever."

The experiences of these owners and the results they get from their Buicks are not at all exceptional—you can do the same things with any of the Light Six Buicks—twenty to twenty-five miles on one gallon of gasoline or distillate—300 to 400 miles on one quart of oil—10,000 to 15,000 miles on a set of tires. These are all important factors in mileage cost, but not as important as depreciation and there is less of that element in Buicks than in other cars
in its price class.

Car buyers are measuring car
worth by the standard of performance and value these days and the record of registrations in California
for the first five months of this year show the Buick to be far ahead of its nearest competitor among the cars selling above $1000.

RANDALL-BANKHEAD LAW.

Washington, D. C., June 6, 1917.
My dear friend:

The Post Office Department has issued a bulletin showing the States in whole or in part to which it is unlawful, on and after July 1 next, under the Randall-Bankhead law, to address mail matter containing either advertisements or solicitation for orders for intoxicating liquors.
The bulletin is issued under Section
5 of the act of Congress, approved March 3, 1917, which provides "that no letter, postal card, circular, newspaper, pamphlet, or publications of any kind" containing either advertisements or solicitations for such orders "shall be deposited in or carried by the mails of the United States, or be delivered by any postmaster or letter carrier" when addressed to "any place or point in any State or territory" in which it is by the local law forbidden to advertise or to solicit orders for liquor.

I appeal to you to give this information the widest publicity. As the author of the first anti-liquor advertising bill to receive favorable action by a committee of Congress, it is with considerable satisfaction that I predict that the liquor interests will find this the hardest blow which they have ever suffered. To be branded as an outlaw from the United States mails, is to proclaim their early and final doom.

I appeal to every town and district
in California to immediately adopt an ordinance, either prohibiting the advertising of liquors, or soliciting orders therefor, or both, and thereby receiving the immediate benefit of this law. Liquor advertisements will be driven out of the mails and out of every newspaper in California.
And this will be a telling stroke for "California dry" in 1918.

Very cordially yours,
C. H. RANDALL.

PATRIOTISM AND PROFIT.

The following is an excerpt from an article by Theodore H. Price, noted writer and economist, appearing in the last issue of The Outlook, showing that purchasers of Liberty Bonds may reasonably anticipate a substantial profit on their investment:

There are many excellent and compelling reasons why everyone should buy the Liberty Loan. It is the patriotic thing to do. The investment is absolutely safe. The bonds are easily convertible and can always be used as collateral. They are convenient. They are exempt from all taxes except the inheritance tax. They are payable in gold. They are the obligations of the richest nation in the world, and three-fifths of the present issue will be secured by the obligations of the European nations to whom $3,000,000,000, of the $5,000,000,000 that is to be borrowed will be loaned. Those who buy them will help to win the war and hasten its ending.

These and many other good reasons for subscribing to the loan are being urged upon American everywhere. There is, however, another reason for subscribing that has not been stressed as it might have been.

This reason is suggested by the fact that every issue of United States bonds that has been made since 1861 has been salable before its maturity at premium or a profit on the issue price. In 1896 the fear that the United States would demote gold, and that other nations would follow her example, drove capital to England for investment, and British consols, which then paid 2 3-4 per cent. sold at 113, at which price the yield was only about 2 3-8 per cent.

Suppose the fear of a prolonged paper inflation in Europe should have the reverse effect when the war is over and foreigners can invest their money here. What then would be the value of nontaxable United States bonds yielding 3 1/2 per cent. and payable in 1932? If in 1918 they should sell upon the same basis that English consols demanded in 1896, they would be worth about 113.

Then, too, the present issue is convertible into any subsequent issue the government shall make during the war that bears a higher rate of interest. This privilege of conversion adds greatly to the value of the bond. If the war continues and another loan at a higher rate becomes necessary, the holder of the bonds now offered for sale will get a larger return upon his investment. Suppose, however, as is quite possible, that the government should decide to make interest payable on the next issue subject to the income tax. In that case the present loan, with the comparatively small amount of United States bonds already outstanding and a few other securities that are guaranteed free of taxation by those who issued them, would be practically the only nontaxable investments in the United States.

This exemption, as measured by the differential already established in the investment market in favor of nontaxable investments, would be worth about 1 1/2 per cent. per annum.

On a fifteen-year bond this would be equal to a premium of nearly 20 per cent., and, while it is hardly to be expected that such a premium would be immediately or constantly obtainable, it is reasonable to assume that as soon as it was known that the Liberty Loan would be the last nontaxable obligation issued by the United States government it would at once be salable at a very handsome profit on the price at which it is now offered. It is therefore apparent that there is a good chance of a substantial profit on subscriptions to the Liberty Loan whether we have an early peace or continued war. If peace comes soon the bonds are almost certain to advance sharply.

If the war continues and further loans are necessary a higher rate of interest or an income tax on the next issue will have the same effect.

SAVING DAYLIGHT.

Daylight saving dates back to 1784, when Benjamin Franklin awoke one morning in Paris at 4 o'clock surprised to find his room brightened by the sun. This gave rise to the reflection that the majority of people during the summer slept through four or five hours of daylight each day and made up for this time by using candle light at night. Franklin calculated that during the six months from March 20 to September 20 (183 nights,) the people of Paris burned their candles for 1281 hours, which at the rate of 100,000 families meant an unusual expense of more than $20,000,000 in the city of Paris alone. "It is impossible," wrote Franklin, "that a wise people would have made use of unhealthy and expensive candle light if they had known, as I have just learned, that they can have for nothing the beautiful and pure light of the sun."

The plan is strictly a saving device, though it will mean increased production in a general way, providing the claims that it will mean increased efficiency and prevention of loss of workers through fewer accidents are correct. In so far as it is an economy idea it is a good one. Prevention of waste will mean enormous gain to the people of the United States.—Oakland (Cal.) Tribune.

HEAVY FRUIT CROP.

The fact that the San Fernando Valley has an immense deciduous fruit crop to harvest must be heralded throughout the Southland, so that sufficient help might be secured to harvest it, says the Lankershim Lancer. It is not generally known this season that much extra help is needed. The Van Nuys and Lankershim canneries will have unusually long runs and big packs, which will demand more help than usual. Preference will be given to local valley people. Girls, boys, women and men will be in demand. The high school students from San Fernando, Owensmouth, Glendale and Burbank will find this a good opportunity to get "pin money" for next year. The Bonner Fruit Company at Lankershim is now ready to register all those who want work. They ask that you register early, for if not enough local valley help can be secured, outside help must be sought. Every pound of fruit must be saved. It is the patriotic duty of the young people to come forward and offer their services to these industries in this time of need. Registering may be done personally, in writing or by telephone. In the dry yards a very busy season is expected. G. H. Prince will run heavy on apricots and peaches. R. S. Butler will make a specialty of prunes and satsuma plums. Never before has Lankershim had such a prune crop. Already it has been necessary to prop the prune trees. Satsuma plums are an average crop. The first peaches went to market this week, being two weeks later than usual.

IMPORTANT ROAD WORK WILL SOON BE STARTED.

Motorists of this section are being informed by the Automobile Club of Southern California that within a short time construction work will, in all probability, be started on several important stretches on the Coast and Valley highways, between Los Angeles and San Francisco. One of these stretches will consist of the five miles of dirt road between the Santa Clara River and Ventura. This contract was let this week. The Gaviota Pass contract has been let and work will soon begin between Los Alamos and Zaca Station.

On the Valley route the four-mile approach to the Ridge route will be paved, the work starting within a few days. This stretch extends from Castaic Station to the school house. The new route will not follow the present county road, but will take a more direct course and at the same time will keep out of the way of the floods which come each spring. The work of actually paving the Ridge route will probably start this summer and, it is expected, will be completed by the end of next summer. Contracts have been let for most of the paving along fifty miles of the Valley route in Tulare county, and it is predicted that this entire work will be completed by the end of this summer.

THE "RIM O' THE WORLD" TRIP.

According to information received recently at the headquarters of the Automobile Club of Southern California, all three routes leading into Bear Valley are open and in good condition. The Victorville route is in fair condition. The Crest route, which was made quite chucky a short time ago by rains, is again being smoothed out and is not at all bad at this writing. The portion of this route from San Bernardino to a point between Baldwin Lake and Big Bear Lake, has been taken over by the State and will hereafter be known as a State highway. The entire 101-mile trip has just been resign posted by the signing crew of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

The Mill Creek Canyon road which runs out of Redlands, is in very acceptable condition at this time, although a little sandy on the turns. The Supervisors of San Bernardino county have just installed a control system on a portion of this route and all machines going up or down will have to do so under control. The control hours for machines going up are 6, 8, 10, 12, 2, 4 and 6 o'clock, while the going down hours are 7, 9, 11, 1, 3, 5 and 7 o'clock. A man has been placed at Kate Harvey Ranch, in Mountain Home Canyon, where the control for the valley end will start, and another man has been placed at the summit of the Mill Creek road.

BRITAIN'S APPEAL TO ITS WOMEN.

LONDON, June 12.—The government, appealing to the women of England to practice economy in the kitchen, published a circular for distribution to all women, which says: "The British fighting line shifts and extends; and now you are in it. The struggle is not only on land and sea; it is in your larder, your kitchen, and your dining-room. Every meal you serve is now literally a battle. Every well cooked meal that saves bread and wastes no food is a victory. Our men are beating the Germans on land and sea. You can beat them in the larder and kitchen."

Many lives would be a great deal sweeter if they were not quite so sugary.

A novel lie makes more commotion than a harkneyed truth.

HOOVER MAKING GOOD.

SALEM, Or., June 12.—Back in 1895, Bert Hoover was office boy for the Oregon Land Company in Salem—a good office boy at that. His uncle, Dr. J. W. Minthorn, was the head of the company. Young Hoover thought he was worth more money. Dr. Minthorn didn't. Hoover left, wandering south into California.

President Wilson has announced that this same Bert Hoover—ex-office boy—is to be food dictator of a nation of a hundred million.

But to go back twenty-two years—in California Hoover entered Leland Stanford University, taking an engineer's course. He worked his way through the school. An Arizona placer mine couldn't get water to the property, and placer mines without water are not much good. The mine owner sent to Stanford for a bright young man to solve their problem. The university sent Hoover. Hoover mastered the difficulty.

Later an Australian company heard of Hoover and sent for him. He straightened out another engineering problem. Then England called him and he worked there for some time. In the meantime he put a brother and sister through school.

Natives here are recalling the strapping youth of 1895 who did odd jobs around the Oregon Land Company office at $35 a month.

BUTTER FAT AND MOISTURE.

CHICAGO, June 12.—Just how much butter fat and moisture should be in genuine country butter will be decided at the Hotel Sherman either today or tomorrow. The question will be decided by the Joint Committee on Definitions and Standards which has asked the public to call at the Hotel Sherman and express their views on the matter.

The joint committee consist of representatives of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists and the Association of American Dairy, Food and Drug Officials. Besides deciding the fate of butter the committee will also conduct hearings on tentative standards for milk and milk products.

FROM ENGLAND TO FRANCE VIA SUBWAY.

LONDON, June 12.—One of the fondest dreams of England's engineers for centuries, a tunnel beneath the English Channel, will probably be realized after the war.

Sir Francis Fox has enabled the United Press to give an outline of how such a tunnel, which, burrowing 100 feet beneath the sea floor, could disgorge express and freight trains between England and France, and remove forever the menace of the submarine, can be constructed.

To drive a double tunnel through the grey Cenomanian chalk, diverting it ingeniously at one point through the gault, is today a simple feat of engineering, Sir Francis declared. Revolving cutters, fixed in Greathead shields, will eat through the earth like butter, and the debris can be constantly removed from the face by high-speed endless belts, discharging directly into wagons.

The Fox plan includes two tunnels, each eighteen feet in diameter, joined at intervals of 200 yards by cross tunnels. A complete system of ventilation is to be worked by electricity. Electric trains are to bring and take away the workmen.

In case such a tunnel should be seized by a hostile force, a water lock, constructed to deal with such an emergency will enable the adjacent military authorities to flood it with water at an instant's notice. When the emergency is over the water can be pumped out by electric power.

The English entrance to the tunnel would be commanded by the Dover forts and by mean-of-war in Dover Harbor.

CHINESE CABINET MINISTERS DISMISSED, FOLLOWING BRIBERY CHARGE.

PEKING, June 9.—Two high Chinese officials, Chen Chin-tao, Minister of Finance, and Yin Ju-lien, Vice-Minister in the same department, are seeking new jobs here today, following the disclosures of a bribery scandal in which they were implicated. The Vice-Minister when called before President Li Yuan-hung, admitted that the finance department had accepted $100,000 (gold,) from a syndicate which put forward a scheme last January for buying and melting brass coins.

President Li investigated the charges. Then he issued a mandate dismissing the officials. Criminal proceedings may be instituted against them.

FOOD PROBLEMS.

PITTSBURGH, June 12.—Herbert C. Hoover discussed the food problems of the world at today's session of the Forty-fourth National Conference of Charities and Corrections. Mental hygiene, health insurance, financial federation and general health topics were taken up at the morning sectional session. Dr. Richard Cabot of Boston will speak on "The Family and the Community" at tonight's general session. Dr. William Healy of Boston, and Mary E. Richmond will also talk tonight.

A boy and his parents seldom agree on what time he should begin going barefooted.

NEW THOUGHT.

Dr. Riley began his course of lectures on "The Seven Great Bibles of the World," in which he intends to show that truth like a golden thread runs through them all. He quoted from "The Texts of Taoism," one of the sacred books of China, translated by James Legge.

The Chinese used this Bible before Jesus was born, 550 years B. C., and it had been handed down from teacher to student as certain teachings in the Masonic lodge are handed down. These sacred books have only recently been translated into our language. When I was a youth the bulk of the people knew nothing of them. I was taught that the only divine revelation was found in our Bible, as I was the son of a minister and brought up to be a missionary. About eighteen years ago I began to investigate and I read book after book and discovered truth in many Bible or sacred books. I have read sixty-one such books. It has taught me that some day there will be a brotherhood of religions, not only a brotherhood of men.

Beneath all dogma, ritual, ecclesiasticism, and creed is the truth. People sometimes say "But why then if these so-called heathen have truth in their sacred books do they do as they do?" I answer, "In our sacred book Jesus taught peace, love and non-resistance, but we are doing the exact opposite of which we are taught to do." They, like we, are not following their books. God has no chosen people. Chinese, Mohammedan, Indian and Christian are all God's children. We are on the verge of a great awakening, a new age in which we will not see wherein we disagree but wherein we agree. There is indisputable evidence that all religions have truth in them.

This Taoism was supposed to have been written by Lao-Tse about the time of Confucius, but Lao-Tse did not originate it, he simply gave it a more definite form. It is really about 4000 years old. Like New Thought it is not new. God is truth and truth is in these old books. Confucius was a moralist, the real inner Chinese teaching is in Taoism.

Truth progresses slowly. We shall be continually learning more and more about God and anyone who sets himself up as giving the final revelation is stupid. Two thousand, even six thousand years ago the same fundamental truth were taught as today. God is Infinite Light, Love, Principle or Law. In Ralph Waldo Trine's book, "In Tune with the Infinite," happiness and harmony come with being in tune with this divine principle.

(Following are some of the passages from this Tao Bible, but scarcely doing credit to the lecture as they are taken in long hand and very incomplete.)

"Who can of Tao (God) the nature tell, eluding sight, eluding touch, profound it is, dark and obscure."

"The essences are in God, those essences the truth unfold."

"God produces all things; nurses, completes, matures, maintains and overpreads all."

The farther one goes out from himself the less he knows."

"To those who are not good to me I am good; to those who are good to me I am also good and thus all are made to be good."

"Purity and stillness give the correct law to all under heaven." In our own Bible we have, "Be still and know that I am God." In nature we have quiet and stillness for the sounds of nature are music.

Babbling brooks, singing birds, sighing trees, these produce harmony. Still another extract from this Chinese Bible reads: "Not to be separated from his primal source constitutes the spiritual man."

Week after next Dr. Riley will talk on the Hindoo Bible, bringing out truths which compare with truth as found in our own Bible. The hour preceding this lecture on the Hindoo Bible will be used in a helpful class lesson on "Affirmations" for which admission will be charged.

PRISONERS SHOULD WORK.

The Hemet News offers the following suggestion with regard to prisoners who should be put to work and made to help in adding to our crop production. It says:

"As an aid to crops and other lines of production just now, the old costly custom of keeping prisoners lying idle in jail should be dispensed with. Every able bodied prisoner in the country should be put to some productive employment. It has long been the contention of those engaged in prison reform that we have not the right to confine men and force them to remain in idleness, this being the cause of a large per cent. of the sickness and deaths in our jails.

"But aside from the question of the humane treatment of these prisoners themselves, there is that of the cost of maintenance. An idle man eats practically as much as a worker. And the working man must feed the idler.

"Every prisoner, after conviction, be his term long or short, should be required to literally fulfill the terms of his sentence, which from time immemorial has always read as such a period of time at 'hard labor.'"

In the daily routine of life you ask of those with whom you come in contact both honesty and fairness of treatment.

More so, than ever, do you need such help during the sorrows of bereavement. Then, as at no other time, you ask and have a right to expect conscientious service—the kind "you" yourself would give were you able to do so.

You ask and expect an impressive service, free of needless expense, yet fitting the occasion.

In using Scovern-Letton-Frey Co. service either in our mortuary, at the church or in your own home, you will find all these requirements met—quietly, restfully and in good taste.

largely be placed upon their own recognition, while those restrained for graver offenses could be put to work where an oversight could be kept of them.

"A ninety-day jail sentence just at this time is equivalent to a good work hand through the crop season for the farmer who would go security and feed and work the offender. Such offenders are usually our neighbors or almost always they are people we know and frequently could trust to faithfully serve out the sentence given them. In fact, the majority would prefer to do so.

"Empty the jails and put the inmates to work. Quit asking men to feed others who are maintained in idleness. Let the prisoner earn his keep and something besides for the good of society."

EUCALYPTUS FOR TREE NAILS

The builders of wooden ships have faced the danger of a famine in "tree nails"—the long cylindrical wooden pins used for assembling the frames and fastening the planking of wooden ships. Fifteen million of these wooden pins will be needed in the San Francisco Bay region if 500 of the nation's new wooden ships are built, for each 3500-ton wooden ship requires 30,000 tree nails.

Such a famine in tree nails has threatened because the supply of black locust timber is not adequate to the sudden new demand. But now the problem has been solved, for the Committee on Resources and Food Supplies of the California State Council of Defense has been informed by the Division of Forestry of the University of California College of Agriculture that experiments by Prof. M. B. Pratt have shown that "stringy-bark eucalyptus" from Australia, which thrives well and grows rapidly in California, will make good tree nails. A number of other hardwoods are being tested by Prof. Pratt at the university in the search for acceptable substitutes for black locust timber.

Metal will not do, for when the ship is subject to severe strain, metal cuts into the planking and framing and opens up seams in the ship into which water can seep. Black locust has met the demand for denseness, durability, seasoning ability, strength and elasticity, but the present shortage of this wood, due to the suddenly increased demand, has led to the substitution of hardwoods so inferior to black locust that there is danger that poorly constructed ships will result. Hence the importance of the discovery that "stringy-bark eucalyptus" will meet the need.

"Tom was killed at Ypres in July, 1916," said Phillips. "I've been pretty lucky—wounded twice but nothing serious. First I got slammed on the head with a pal's rifle butt during bayonet fighting with Fritz. It was so close we couldn't always be sure who was getting hit. But the real blighty wounds came last September on the Somme. A machine gun bullet went through my left wrist and another through my leg, and then they operated on my head, and they're still at it.

STATE BOARD BUYS $50,000 LIBERTY BONDS.

Liberty Bonds are popular with administrators of public funds, who find in such an investment an ideal expression of duty. The State Board of Education, as administrators of public school teachers' retirement salary funds, has invested $50,000 of its surplus in government war bonds. In doing so, the board issued the following statement:

"In making this investment, the board feels that it is acting in consonance with the spirit of patriotism which is a pronounced attribute of California public school teachers.

"It is an uncommon situation which permits the investment of funds, ultimately destined to protect and support aged teachers of California who have spent their lives educating children and inculcating high ideals of morality, patriotism and love of freedom, in Liberty Bonds which are issued to finance our nation in its fight to preserve our national liberties and to make the world safe for democratic government in the future."
